Memorize Combinations!

Combinations for containers and areas approved for classified storage are classified at the same level of the highest information stored within them. For this reason, it is inappropriate to write down a combination and not handle, mark, and protect it as a classified document.