The Right Document – Right Now

NIST’s Computer Security Division provides computer security professionals a one-stop shop for information on standards, guidelines, and other resources necessary to support the Federal government.

Currently, there are over 200 documents available within NIST’s online computer security repository. In addition to being listed by type and number, access to these documents is being presented using three approaches to ease searching:

- by Topic Cluster
- by Family
- by Legal Requirement

NIST Information Security Documents

The Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS) Publication Series is the official series of publications relating to standards and guidelines adopted and promulgated under the provisions of the Federal Information Security Management Act (FISMA) of 2002.

ITL Bulletins are published by the Information Technology Laboratory (ITL). Each bulletin presents an in-depth discussion of a single topic of significant interest to the information systems community. Bulletins are issued on an as-needed basis.

The Special Publication 800-series reports on ITL’s research, guidelines, and outreach efforts in information system security, and its collaborative activities with industry, government, and academic organizations.

The NIST Interagency Report series may report results of projects of transitory or limited interest. They may also include interim or final reports on work performed by NIST for outside sponsors (both government and nongovernment).
